

Privacy Statement

Thank you for visiting DSCI. We designed our site to make it easier and more efficient for all users to interact with us. We recognize that it is critical for our public to be confident that their privacy is protected when they visit our site. Therefore, this policy describes our privacy practices regarding what information is collected and how that information from users of this website is used.

If you do provide us with identifiable information, such as your name, e-mail address and other personal information, we may contact you via e-mail to provide you with information we believe may be of interest to you. At the time, you will be offered the opportunity to opt out of this service. We may also share your personal information with our subsidiaries or affiliates. We will not disclose your information to other companies or external parties without your permission.

Information that is not personal, such as engineering or systems related questions, comments, ideas and suggestions, shall be deemed non-confidential and DSCI shall be free to use and disclose this information in order to assist others in resolving their related issues, without any obligation to you.

In addition, we may store some information on your computer to improve the quality of your visit to our site. In some cases, this information will help us to tailor the content to your interests, or help us avoid asking for the same information on repeat visits to the site. With most Internet browsers, you can erase the information, normally referred to as "cookies" from your computer's hard drive, block all cookies or even receive a warning before a cookie is placed on your system. Please refer to your browser instructions to learn more about internet cookies.

DSCI has a link page that contains links to third party sites. Their site contents, activities and privacy practices are not under our control. Therefore, our privacy policies do not apply to any of these third party sites. If you visit one of these sites, be sure to read their privacy policies.

We are very concerned about protecting the privacy of children. We do not intend to collect any personally identifiable information from children under 18 years old. If a child has provided us with personally identifiable information, the parent or guardian of that child should contact us.

If at any time you do not wish us to contact you or if you have questions concerning our privacy practices, please feel free to contact us at info@dsci.com.
